OBJECTIVE

Hi there! I am Viraj Raina, a third-year student majoring in artificial intelligence in computer science. I am passionate about artificial intelligence and committed to learning about it and helping it advance. I am currently developing my talents through coursework and practical projects, and I enjoy being in creative, dynamic situations. With great anticipation for AI's future, I am looking for chances to put my skills to use and have a significant influence. As passion and expertise converge, let us connect and discover the limitless possibilities
